Letter From Harry Tabler.

A letter was received last week by Mrs. Ursula Tabler, from her son who is a private in the Second Engineers now in England. He says:

"We arrived safely and I am feeling fine. We were on board ship 22 days, and, believe me, I sure did feed the fishes for a couple of days coming over, but I had plenty of company."

I passed through the Kincaid boys' old stamping ground and it certainly is a beautiful country.

Wish you could see some of the railway trains here. They look like toys compared to ours, but then everything else is different.

I saw several whale and big fish and one shark coming over.

I guess Nathan Rice was left behind when we came over, as only a part of his company came.

Harry R. Tabler,
A. E. F., Co. F, Second Engineers.

Printed Stationery Pays.

What about that up-to-date stationery you were to have made? We recently heard of two farmers who happened to apply about the same time for loans from a trust company. Farmer A had printed stationery and wrote his letter on a typewriter; Farmer B, just as well off as A in the world's goods, used a pencil and scratch paper and wrote on both sides of the sheet. The result was, B's letter made so bad an impression that he experienced considerable delay and trouble in getting his loan, while A's was granted almost immediately. In getting results from correspondence, the neatly written letter on printed stationery is as far superior to a pencil scrawl on a piece of scratch paper as a twelve cylinder automobile is to an ox-cart. HOG PRICE FIXING IS DENIED

Statement that Government Had Set $10 Figure Untrue.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, as Federal Food Administrator for Missouri has received the following telegram from Herbert Hoover, Federal Food Administrator: "Statement has appeared in Chicago papers that we have intention of reducing hog prices to $10, Chicago. Advise that statement is absolutely untrue. It does not represent opinion or proposed action of food administrator, which will take no steps that will jeopardize livestock producers' interest. All our endeavors will be used to keep prices, at which all allied and governmental purchases are made, that give assured return of cost and profit to producers of meat animals."

Dean Mumford who has recently returned from Washington stated definitely that it was not the policy of the food administration to fix prices of cattle and hogs that would result in loss to food producers. "The food administration recognizes that the chief reason for fixing prices on farm produce is to stimulate increased production; and any price fixed, therefore, must be high enough to accomplish the result," said Dean Mumford in an interview to newspapers today.

"There is a known shortage of pork, and farmers are urged to increase their breeding herds of swine and otherwise adapt their farm plans to bring about greatly increased production of hogs. Therefore the food administration is encouraging rather than discouraging the production of pork."

Obituary.

Died at her home in Jasper, Mo., October 29, 1917, aged 3 years, 5 months and 10 days, Margie Ellen Frick. Margie was born in Hutchinson, Kans., May 16, 1914. Her death after a short illness was due to croup, terminating into bronchial catarrh. She leaves to mourn their loss a father, mother, one sister and four brothers. Services were held at the home Sunday, October 28, conducted by Rev. J. W. Moore of the M. E. Church. Remains were laid to rest in the Jasper City Cemetery.

Little Margie was the daughter of E. B. Frick and wife, and being the baby daughter and the very light of the home her passing leaves the family in the deepest sorrow. She was a bright little girl, who had already endeared herself to those who knew her. The family have the deepest sympathy of the community.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our dear one.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Frick and family.

Save the Food.

One way, and a most important way, to help the Government win the war is to cooperate with the administration in its campaign to save the food. Everybody knows that the American people have not only been wasting immense quantities of food, but have also been using far more than is necessary and good for us. It has now become essential that every family do its part in this work. Put away suspicion and prejudice and fall in with the administration in this work.

Howard Gray, Mrs. Emily Newell Blair and Mrs. Effie Blair Wall of Carthage were speakers at the M. E. Church Tuesday night at a well attended meeting promoting the food pledge campaign this week.

Nearly every person present pledged to help in this work, and when the people come to realize that the better the food of the country is conserved the sooner will the war be ended and our boys come home to us, and the peace of the world will be soundly established.

High School Notes.

Rev. J. W. Moore delivered a much appreciated patriotic address last Wednesday to the high school students.

Guy Fenner, one of our last year's graduates, but who is now attending Rude's Business College at Carthage, visited us Monday.

The High School teachers will entertain the High School pupils and all the school teachers Friday night with a masquerade party in honor of Halloween. We are looking forward to a spooky time.

Our new serial "The Son of Tarzan," starts with this issue. We can't give space enough to tell you how good a story this is. Just read this week's installment and you will not want to miss what follows.

Y. M. C. A. Needs Money.

Secretary Spencer of the Carthage Y. M. C. A. was in Jasper last Friday afternoon, and called several of Jasper's business men in conference at the Farmers & Merchants Bank. He spoke for half an hour to the men assembled, telling of the work the Y. M. C. A. is doing for our soldiers and sailors, both at home and abroad. In every military camp and naval station where there are any considerable number of men assembled the Y. M. C. A. is maintaining an establishment in the way of gymnasium reading rooms, all kinds of healthful games, conducting study courses, giving entertainments, and furnishing free stationery—in other words the Y. M. C. A. house or tent is the "cheer-up" headquarters for the camp or station.

Jasper has received many letters from the boys in different camps written on the Y. M. C. A. stationery, and as we write a letter lies on our desk from Harry Tabler and dated Southampton, England, and bearing the black and red emblem of the Y. M. C. A. on the envelope.

The association has been designated by the Government of America and the allies to do this work, as it is entirely undenominational, and it will take considerable money to carry on the work. A campaign is contemplated to be put on early this month to raise $35,000,000 for this great cause.

Marriage Announced Two Weeks Later

The marriage of Miss Ruth Seymour of Dudenville and Fred Johnston, son of C. S. Johnston and wife of Zion, was announced last week, two weeks after the event had taken place at Columbus, Kans. The bride has been attending business college in Carthage, and Mr. Johnston is farming with his father, but has been called before the draft board and may have to leave his bride for the mobilization camp in a few days.

The young folks have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

Another Marriage.

Announcement was made last week of the marriage of Miss Lucile Hall of Avilla and G. Vest Cearnal, son of J. R. Cearnal and wife. The bride was a telephone operator at Avilla and Mr. Cearnal is a young farmer living 9 miles southeast of Jasper. They are both very popular young people and receiving the congratulations of many friends.
